

Welcome to the Cuddle Kennel! I am located in Willow, Alaska. The Cuddle Kennel is a husky dog (and husky puppy's!) kennel. I have raced in the Iditarod for the past 4 years and still going. The first time I raced I won last place and put out the widow's lamp and took home the red lantern. The red lantern is the award that the person in last place gets so they can know everyone is a winner. The second year I won first place and since then 2nd then 3rd. I named my kennel Cuddle Kennel because when I was a kid I absolutely loved to cuddle with my dog named

Sammy. I hope that you can adopt a dog and cuddle with it just like I did with Sammy. Happy trails!
