

Iditarod Word
of the Week

Iditarod Word of the Week

This is an activity that can be done each week year round or just around Iditarod time. There are 18 terms in total. I put all the terms on construction paper and then laminated them so I can use them year after year. I post the word of the week on my front board so the whole class can see it. Students will learn the word and definition by the end of the week. Every few weeks I go over all the words we have done so far, so they don't forget them. When it comes to Iditarod time, they already know the lingo!

Credits—

Iditarod Word
of the Week

Mush! Hike! Let's Go! commands to get the team started

Dog Mushing
a sport or transport method powered by dogs

Booties

a type of sock that is made to protect the dog's feet from small cuts and sores

Gee

command to turn right

Haw

command to turn left

Gang Line

the line that connects the sled to the team of dogs

Lead Dog

dog who runs in front of the others, generally must be both intelligent and fast

Snow Hook

heavy piece of metal attached to a sled by line
The snow hook is embedded in the snow in order to hold the team and sled for short period of time.

Swing Dog

dog that runs directly behind the leader, further identified as the right or left swing, depending on which side of the gang line he is positioned on His job is to "swing" the team in turns or curves.

Wheel Dogs

dogs that run directly in front of the sled
Their job is to pull the sled out and around corners or trees.

Returned Dog

a dog that a musher leaves at a checkpoint
The dog is cared for at the checkpoint before being returned to Anchorage.

Dog in the Basket

tired or injured dog that is carried in the sled

Handler

a much-needed assistant to the musher

Tug Line

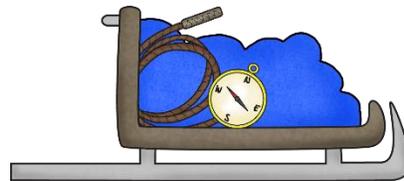

the line that connects the rear of the dog's harness to the gang line (or towline)

Slats

thin sheets of wood which make up the bottom of the sled basket

Whoa

the term mushers use to stop their team—used pretty universally by mushers.

Team Dogs

dogs in the middle of the team;
dogs that are not the lead, wheel, or swing dogs.

Iditarod

A 1,049 mile long dog sled race that is held in Alaska every March. The race starts in Anchorage and ends in Nome.

Husky

A breed of dog that is typically used in dog mushing

